

Young v. State

Web Page Update as of June 25, 2010

Most of the Checks Have Arrived and We Can Finally Send Them Out.

Finally, weeks after being told that they would arrive, on late Monday the 21st of June we received about 1500 checks. However, along with them came “agency instructions” from the state that they cannot be distributed until an “acknowledgment” is signed that we received every one that the state claimed that it sent in the correct amounts.

Our hard working staff verified that all but a few were correct, so we requested an agreement to send the correct ones out and “acknowledge” those. We finally received that agreement on Friday the 25th and have begun the process of mailing out the checks. It will take our staff about two weeks to do so, as one person is on a preplanned vacation and another has a family medical emergency. We anticipate that it may take us two weeks to get the checks out the door with the relevant paperwork.

We still need to receive slightly over 100 checks and have sent an updated list to the state requesting them. Naturally, we have no idea when those will arrive.

As for the appeal, our opening brief has been filed. However, a decision is a year or more away and there are no timelines for the Court to rule. So, if you move, change phone numbers or your e mail address please keep us informed of those changes.
